artist’s statement: my name is raphaella “raph” brice and i am a digital artist & graphic illustrator. i began my practicing my art digitally and have expanded to using technological tools such as the laser cutter machine & vinyl cutter, to bring my digital art to life. in the physical realm, i mainly work with wood & vinyl.

i describe my style as “cultural-psychedelic” — where culture meets the surrealism of my inner and outer expression of the world. i mainly draw knowledge from my haitian-catholic background and use spiritual & mystical concepts to celebrate the human consciousness shift that is currently happening in the world today. in a time where the pandemic revealed faults in the system, the art i create draws from cultural, spiritual, & mystical references while using exuberant color palettes to create timeless visual stories.

at the forefront of all my pieces is 'the liberated & exuberant black body', unscathed by the perils of society, principalities, and the powers that dominate this earth. the goal of my pieces is to liberate the collective black experience & honor oneness -- a dream we collectively aspire towards yet are distracted by our own polarities in human life.
